

The Lower Hudson Special Education Task Force is proud to present

How Emotional Intelligence Skill Building Benefits Children with Disabilities

Presented by Dr. Jane Sandbank

Join us for this informative workshop for parents, school personnel and community providers which will answer these questions and more:

Why is Emotional Intelligence Important for Your Children and Students?
Emotions Matter and Foster Personal, Social and Academic Improvement

Date: Thursday, March 1, 2018

Time: 12 p.m. – 2 p.m.

Location: Westchester Independent Living Center (WILC)
10 County Center Road, 2nd floor, White Plains, NY 10607

Dr. Sandbank is a trainer, coach and program developer for the Yale Center for Emotional Intelligence. She is the former Superintendent of Schools in the Brewster Central School District and has been an Adjunct Professor of Organizational Behavior at Teachers College, Columbia University. She has also taught at Hunter College Graduate School of Education and SUNY New Paltz. Dr Sandbank is the founder and CEO of the Jane Sandbank Group (www.janesandbankgroup.com), which offers consulting services in Leadership Development, Team Building, Executive Coaching and Strategic Planning. She continues to consult to parent groups and Community Based Organizations across the region with a focus on Adolescent Development.

Click Here to register

If you have problems registering, please call Jessica Baumann at Putnam Independent Living Services: 845.228.7457 x1108

Sponsored by: The Lower Hudson Valley Special Education Task Force

