I think this experience has given me a whole new level of understanding of what my son experiences each every day. And, I definitely think I will be much more patient with him and just realizing how hard he is working.

-Kathleen, parent

Every simulation we did today is completely right on. I've seen firsthand a person who struggles, all the avoidances and exhaustion. One thing they need ...to be congratulated for really trying hard and moving forward.

-Jacqueline, Special Education Teacher

presented by ARLINGTON Special Education PTA
