

The Lower Hudson Special Education Task Force is proud to present

Communication Matters: Time Tested Strategies to Reduce Conflict & Improve Outcomes for Students with Disabilities

Join us for this free training featuring a video developed through the collaborative efforts of many experienced parents, school administrators and advocates highlighting common communication barriers that may arise during Committee on Special Education (CSE) meetings. Learn proven strategies to promote communication, partnership, creativity, and agreement in Individualized Education Program (IEP) development.

A live facilitated discussion will take place during planned pauses in the video to offer participants an opportunity to share and exchange perspectives and thoughts on conflict-reducing strategies highlighted by those representing typical CSE team members.

Parents, guardians, general education and special education teachers, school administrators and psychologists, service providers and advocates are all encouraged to attend and participate in an honest and productive discussion resulting in improved outcomes for students with disabilities.
